CASE OF LLOYD CANNON

WAS HELD ON A BOND OF $1,000
ON PERJURY CHARGE BY JUDGE CLARK.

BACK TO COUNTY JAIL FOR NEGRO

Pleaded Not Guilty and Waived a Preliminary, But State Was Permitted to Introduce Part of Its Evidence.

Lloyd Cannon, a negro, was arraigned before Justice F. W. Clark today for preliminary examination on the charge of committing perjury by making a false affidavit, on which he secured a continuance of his trial on the charge of rape. Prosecuting Attorney Dow read the information, and Cannon, through his attorney, C. C. Kelly, entered a plea of not guilty and waived preliminary hearing. Prosecutor Dow asked permission of the court to introduce the evidence of Mrs. Carrie S. Meriwether, at whose instigation Cannon was arrested on the perjury charge, but defendant's counsel interposed an objection by saying that the introduction of evidence after the prisoner had waived his preliminary would mean additional cost in the case. Judge Clark overruled the objection and permitted the evidence of the state to be offered, after which the prisoner was held to the criminal court, bail being fixed at $1,000. Cannon is the negro who, months ago, was arrested on the charge of having ravished Miss Sophia Schwensen. Later he was arrested on the charge of attempted rape, and now a charge of perjury is pending against him, although he has not yet been tried on any of the three charges.

TOOK 18 STITCHES IN FACE

Paul Kais Was Cut by Another Greek Laborer Last Night.

Paul Kais, a Greek laborer on one of the local railways, and a Greek fellow-workman whose name is not known, indulged in a fierce fight near the Missouri Pacific round house last night. Knives were brought into use, and Kais received wounds on his face and head that required eighteen stitches at the hands of Dr. Staats. The man who did the cutting was also slightly injured, but succeeded in making his escape. The authorities have a good description of the fellow, but there is not much probability of his apprehension and arrest.

CONVICTED OF FRAUD

Chicago Attorney Tried to Swindle Uncle Sam Out of Land.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 15.—A jury in the federal court here in the case of Frederick S. Baird, charged with attempting to defraud the government of several thousand acres of public land in Dawes county, Neb., by means of fictitious entries, late last night returned a verdict of guilty on six counts.

Baird is the Chicago attorney and head of the Chicago Ranch company. He was indicted with Patrick J. and Lawrence E. King. The trial of the Kings will come up at a future term of court.

FLEET REACHES JAPAN

Little Brown Men Are Excited Over Arrival of American Ships.

Tokio, Oct. 15.—At 8 o'clock this morning it was reported that the gunboat Yankton, preceding the American battleship fleet, had been sighted by Japanese war vessels off the coast. All Japan is astir in anticipation of the arrival of the American fleet. Yokohama and Tokio in particular being given over to enthusiastic preparation.

POSSE KILLS TEXAS ROBBER

One Man's Life Taken in Battle, Another Is Wounded.

Weatherford, Texas, Oct. 15.—As a result of a battle between a sheriff's posse and two bandits who had burglarized three stores in Gordon, forty miles west of this city, Monday night, one bandit is dead and the other is believed to be wounded.

Sheriff Peak, of Palo Pinto county, began work on the case Tuesday morning. The men were traced along the railroad track. It was surmised the men were in hiding at the Santo water tank, and officers were stationed there.

Tuesday night when a stock train pulled up to the tank two men attempted to board it. The concealed officers commanded them to stop, but instead they opened fire on the posse. Officers returned the fire.

One of the bandits was killed. The other, who had fallen during the battle, scrambled to his feet and escaped in the thick weeds and brush.

KATY INJUNCTION SUIT

FEDERAL COURT OF APPEALS HEARS ARGUMENTS IN ST. LOUIS.

GOT FOUR DAYS TO FILE STATEMENT

Suit in Question Applies to Rates From Southwestern Points on Live Stock to the Chicago Stock Yards.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15.—Arguments on the injunction suit of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railroad company and others against the interstate commerce commission before the judges of the federal court of appeals were concluded yesterday.

The contestees got four days in which to file condensed statements of the case, which was taken under advisement. It is believed that a decision will not be rendered for two weeks.

The interstate commerce commission has agreed to postpone the enforcement of the rate in question from October 15 to October 30.

The arguments yesterday were made by Judge Cowan and L. A. Shaner, representing the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Cowan said that rates made by the southwestern tariff committee for the roads represented in the suit were unfair, a matter that the interstate commerce commission had found by an investigation that began last spring, in which 1,000 railroad men in the southwest were questioned.

He said that the freight rate from Andover, Kas., to St. Louis, 597 miles, was 22 1/2 cents, and the rate from Elliston, Ok., to St. Louis, 560 miles, was 36 1/2 cents per 100 pounds. He said that the only competition that existed was in rebates, and he knew that as much as $15 a car had been paid in rebates to large shippers.

The suit in question applies to rates from the southwestern points on live stock to the Chicago stock yards.

BRYAN IN NEBRASKA

Began Third Day's Nebraska Campaign Before 7 This Morning.

Wymore, Neb., Oct. 15.—Mr. Bryan began his third and last day's tour of Nebraska with a speech before 7 o'clock this morning at Endicott.

Though it was nearly midnight last night when he concluded his talking, he appeared fresh and chipper this morning. Several hundred farmers had gathered at Endicott, and at Fairbury and Diller he also had good crowds. At Wymore the largest crowd yet encountered during the lay was gathered at the depot to hear him.

VERDICT WAS GUILTY

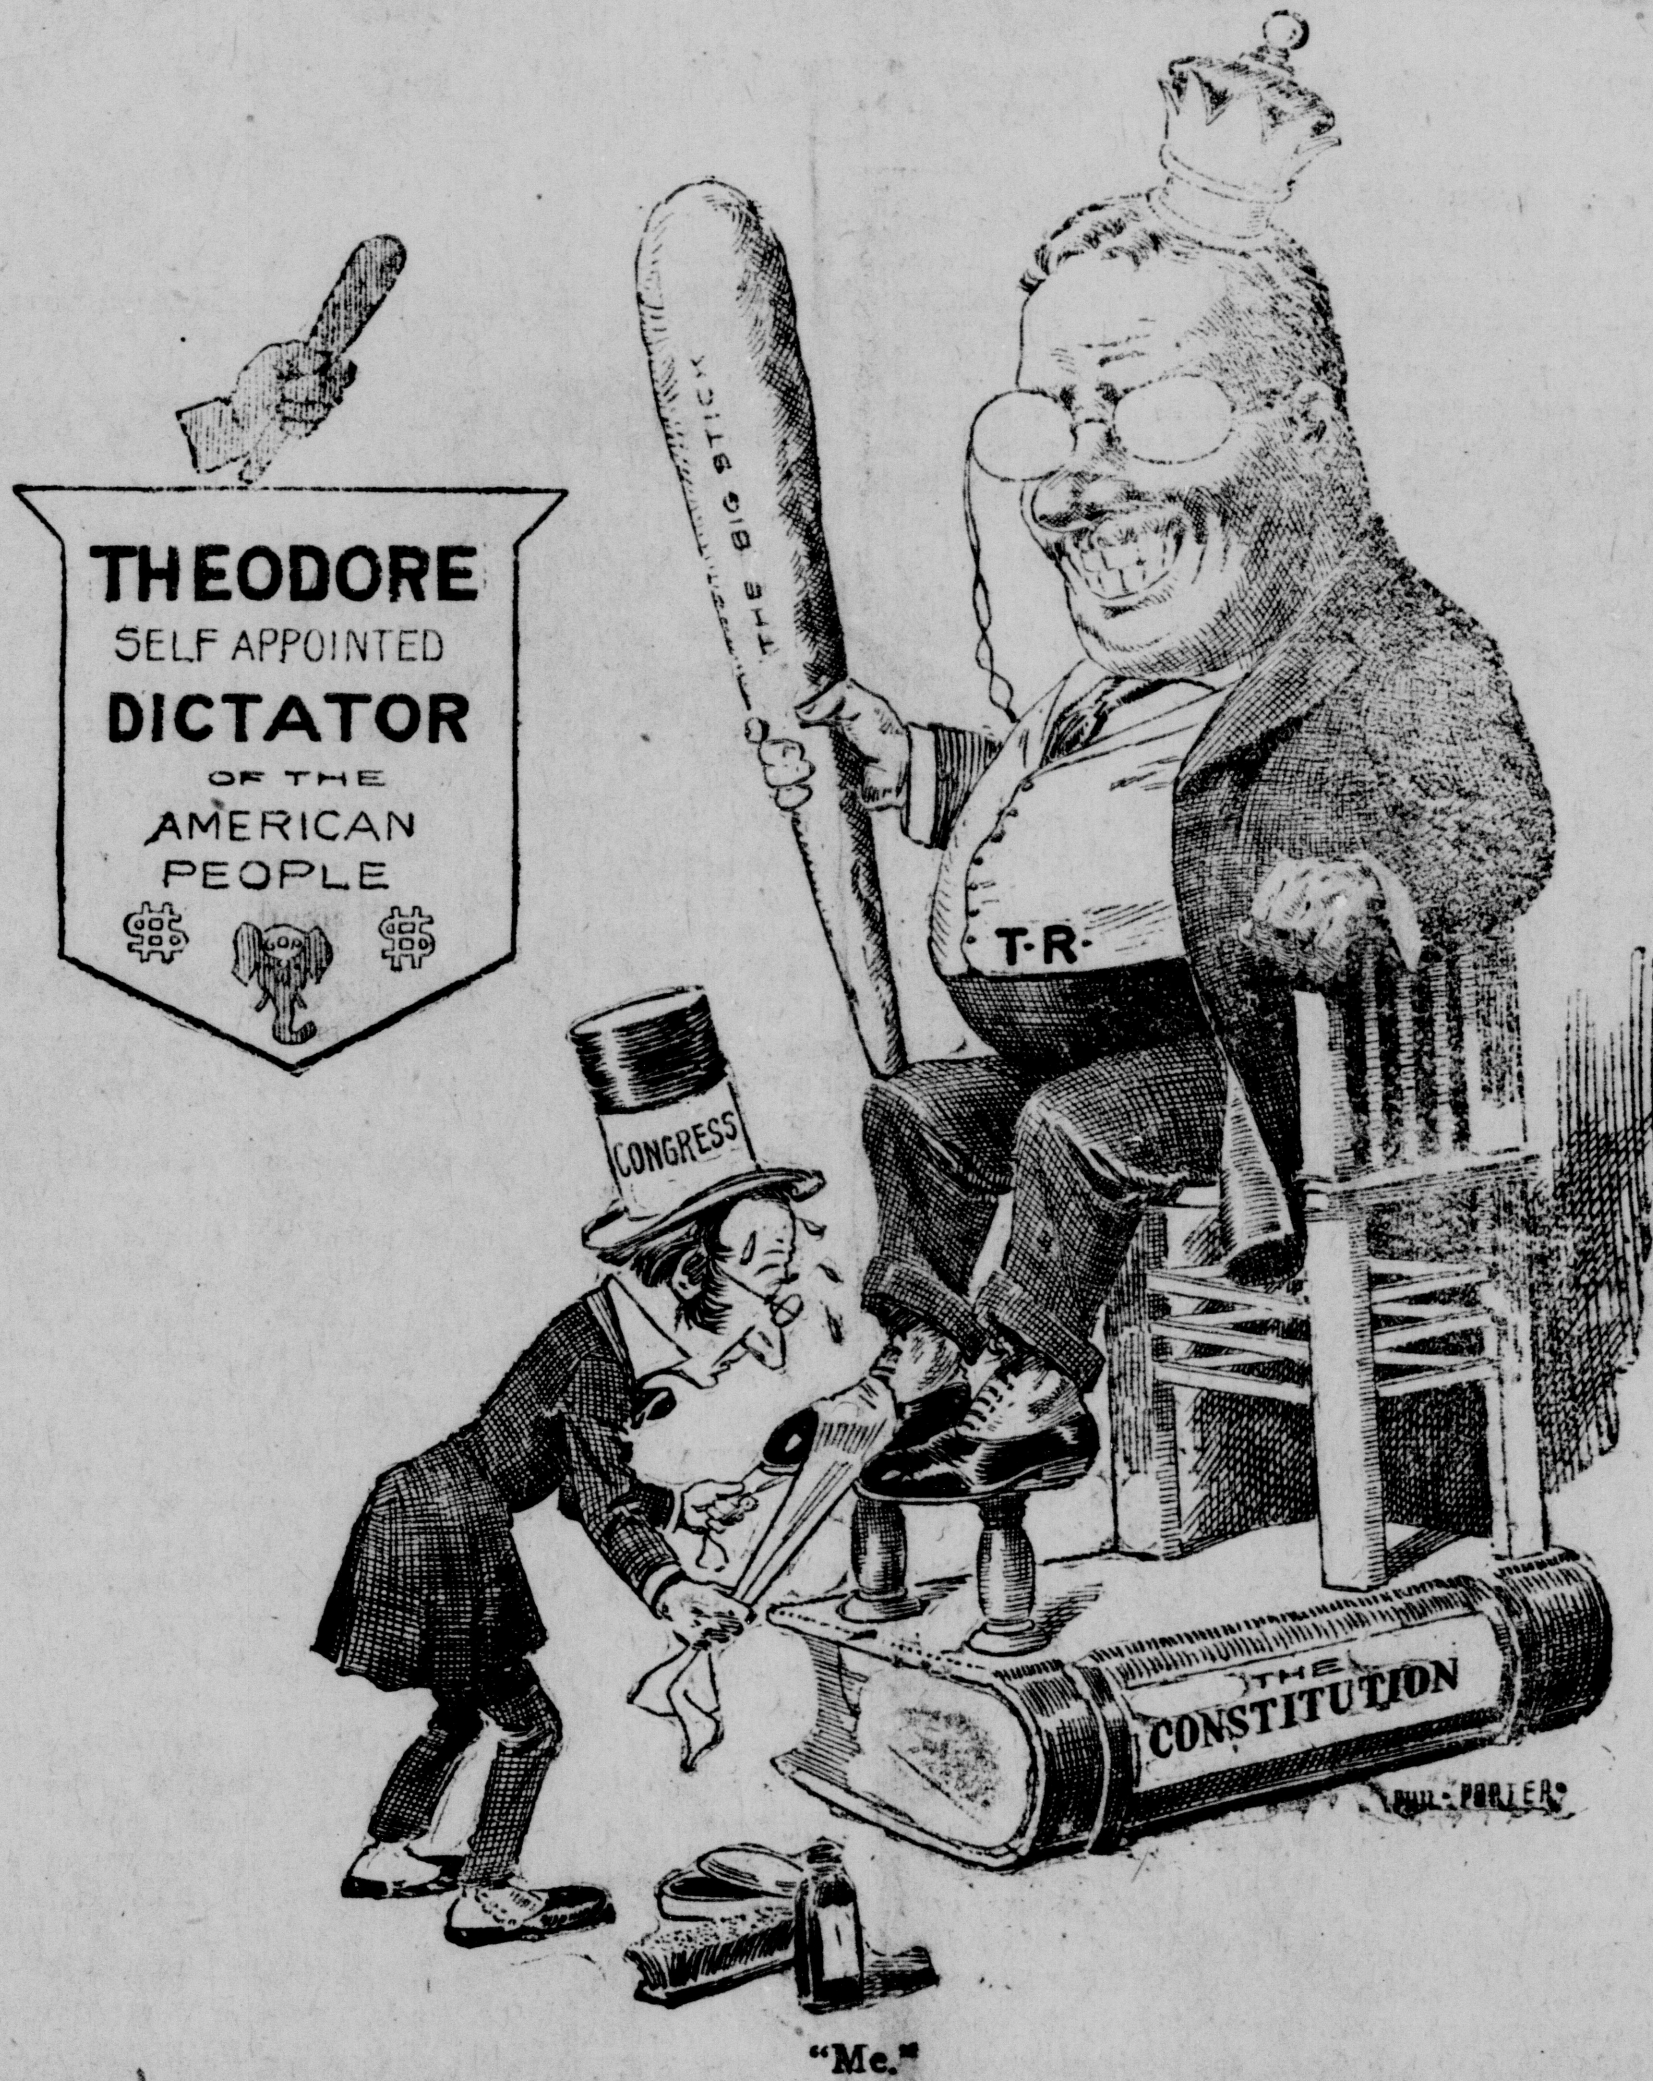

Kansas Man's Unwritten Law Plea Was Not Effective.

Independence, Kas., Oct. 15.—The jury in the case of Henry Behner, charged with killing Tobias Sawyer, whom he suspected of the ruin of his 16-year-old daughter, returned a verdict today of guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury was out nineteen hours. The verdict carries a life sentence. The girl was a servant in the Sawyer home before the killing.

OUR ROYALTY—NO. 1

SWISS BALLOON WON IT?

HELVETIA FINISHED A 775-MILE FLIGHT IN A NORWEGIAN FJORD.

IT TRAVELED GREATEST DISTANCE

One Entrant, a German Craft, Unaccounted for—Feared It Is in the Sea—In All, Five Have Fallen.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—Only one of the twenty-three balloons which started in the race for the James Gordon Bennett international trophy Sunday is accounted for. This is the German balloon, under the command of Dr. Niemeyer, with Hans Hiedemann as assistant. It is feared that it is in the North sea.

Dispatches received here from Cuxhaven announced that the Spanish contestant, Castella, dropped into the ocean six miles north of Heligoland, and that the navigators, Montojo and Robero, were rescued by fishermen.

Last night a dispatch was received from Molde, Norway, telling of the descent of the Swiss balloon, Helvetia, to the ocean, and the rescue of Col. Schaeck and E. Messner. The dispatch follows:

"Fishing boat this afternoon rescued occupants balloon Helvetia at the last moment, as they were sinking, the gas being totally exhausted. The balloon was saved. Schaeck and Messner will remain here over night and go to Christiania tomorrow."

Molde is only thirty-two miles southwest of Christiania, and to have traveled about 750 miles in descended this point the Helvetia must have traveled by the shortest distance yet reported to the credit of any of the contestants. The majority of the entrants took either a somewhat circular course, or were compelled to descend on account of their proximity to water.

The Helvetia is the fifth balloon among the international contestants to come to grief. The American balloon Conqueror and the Spanish balloon Montanes burst at high altitudes, and the American balloon St. Louis and the Spanish balloon Castilla were wrecked in the North Sea. Although no deaths followed these disasters, the escape of the men who were in the balloons was almost miraculous.

German Balloon in North Sea. Berlin, Oct. 15.—The German balloon Busley, which left Berlin Sunday last in the international race, came down yesterday morning in the North sea. Two men on board were rescued by a passing steamer.

A Run by the Fire Boys.

Burning grass along the railway tracks in the vicinity of Engineer avenue necessitated a run by the fire department at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon. No damage resulted.

THE LIST IS PUBLISHED

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE TELLS NAMES OF CONTRIBUTORS.

50,000 INDIVIDUALS HELPED

Altogether Sums Have Not Been Very Large and at Least $100,000 More Is Needed to Win the Coming Victory.

New York, Oct. 15.—The democratic national committee today issued its first statement of campaign receipts showing $80,000 had been received from contributors of $100 and over, and that $115,000 had come from contributors of sums under $100. The number of contributors is placed at 50,000 persons. About $100,000 was contributed by democratic newspapers.

The committee says that an additional $100,000 is needed, adding: "We earnestly urge a prompt and generous response to this appeal."

The name of C. N. Haskell, former treasurer, does not appear in the list of contributors from Oklahoma.

PTOMAINES IN APPLE PIE

Two Children Die Suddenly After Eating a Moldy One.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 15.—A special from Stanford, Ill., states that Carl and Clarence James, aged 6 and 8 years, respectively, died there suddenly last night from ptomaine poisoning, after eating moldy apple pie.

GOULD DIDN'T PROVE IT

NO WITNESSES TO BACK UP STORY OF WIFE'S ALLEGED DRUNKENNESS.

GOOD POINT SCORED BY THE WIFE

At Hearing Yesterday Persons at Dinner Where She Is Said to Have Been Intoxicated Denied the Charge.

New York, Oct. 15.—Howard Gould's efforts to show through an intimate friend of himself and his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gould, that Mrs. Gould had been intoxicated on several occasions and had conducted herself unbecomingly, resulted unsuccessfully last afternoon before Referee Charles L. Hoffman.

Leroy W. Baldwin, president of the Empire Trust company, was subpoenaed before the referee to give testimony that would support the affidavits of Mr. Gould. Mr. Baldwin said: "I have never seen Mrs. Gould intoxicated or acting other than as a lady of refinement."

September 30, Delancey Nicoll, representing Mr. Gould, obtained a supreme court order appointing Charles L. Hoffman as referee to take the depositions of Mr. Baldwin and Mrs. George U. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was the hostess at a luncheon at which it was charged that Mrs. Gould became intoxicated, engaged in an altercation with the guests and finally hit Mrs. Kirkpatrick on the arm.

All efforts to find Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Emily Smoetzel, who is also wanted as a witness, have been futile. At the Kirkpatrick home it was said that Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick had gone to California. Mrs. Smoetzel is supposed to be in New Jersey.

The Baldwins and the Goulds were intimate social friends. Mr. Baldwin swore yesterday that he had no recollection of any of the occurrences specified.

A. W. Watson, who appeared for Howard Gould, endeavored to have the witness specify what he considered intoxication, but Mr. Baldwin refused to pose as an authority on that question.

Today Clarence Shearn, representing Mrs. Gould, will appear before Justice Bischoff and argue a motion for an increase in the alimony of Mrs. Gould from $25,000 a year to $120,000, and also for counsel fees.

Davis Gave $200 Bond.

Mora Davis, a negro, was arrested by Magistrate Rickman last night on the charge of assaulting Maggie Brown, a negress. He furnished a $200 bond, signed by his father, George Davis, for appearance in court on October 19.

Probate Judge Kennedy today appointed R. A. Higdon guardian and curator of Cora Iva and Mathew McMullin.

MRS. FISH TO THE RESCUE

NEWPORT LEADER GALLANTLY LEADS IN COUNTRYWOMAN'S DEFENSE.

DENIES THE EXISTENCE OF A "400"

Declares That Brains Dominate Social Life and Poverty Doesn't Enter Consideration With Sensible People.

New York, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, in answering the comments of Mrs. Cornwallis West on New York's high society, declared that society had been defamed. She said:

"Society does none of the silly things it is accused of. I ought to know, for I lived in Newport more than fifteen years. Newport society is perfectly sane and moral. It is high time the silly stories about it were stopped. They are absolutely false, every one of them, and no loyal patriotic American would publish stories which belittle abroad the dignity of their own country men and women."

"New York society, if anything, is more dignified than that abroad. I believe it is really more exclusive in some respects. King Edward is very democratic and goes about socially a great deal more than President Roosevelt does."

"Money does not count a bit with me. If people are agreeable and attractive, or accomplished and entertaining, I don't care if they haven't 10 cents. If I liked them I should invite them to my parties."

"Brains dominate social life here more and more. We are only accredited with being frivolous and senseless. It is about time that society people rose up to defend themselves against such ridiculous charges."

"This talk about a '400' is tiresome. This is a great big, growing country. Do you realize it? Why, there are thousands of excellent people the length and breadth of it. Ward McAllister has been dead for more than fifteen years now. Haven't any people been born since? Are all of the old ones still living? Are there still just 400 of us? I wonder who keeps count?"

"American women are just as clever as, if not cleverer, than English women. But conditions in England are so different. Why should one discuss them?"

BOMB ROUTS HOTEL GUESTS

Fourteenth Explosion in the Gamblers' War in Chicago Starts Fire.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The fourteenth bomb thrown inside of a year and a half in what has been termed the "gamblers' war," was exploded yesterday back of the Hotel Bertrand, on Michigan avenue.

The rear of the building was wrecked and many guests of the hotel were hurled out of bed and ran panic-stricken to the fire escapes. Fire followed the explosion, but the firemen quickly extinguished the flames.

Chief of Police Shippy immediately detailed a score of detectives to work on the case.

Three Powers Reach Agreement.

London, Oct. 15.—Great Britain, Russia and France have reached an agreement on the program to be submitted to other powers as a basis for a discussion by the proposed European conference to settle the Balkan situation. The proposals to be laid before the powers are eight in number.

DOES DANCE ON GRAVES

LUNATIC, NAKED, CHANTS AND LAUGHS IN THE COUNTY CEMETERY.

USES A TOMBSTONE FOR A FLOOR

Passers-By Hear Cries, Notify Detectives, and Man Submits Quietly to Arrest—Name Not Known to Authorities.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15.—Residents of Stratmann, St. Louis county, witnessed a performance yesterday evening that made the Salome dance, with all its vaunted ghouliness and shocking lack of decency, look like an inoffensive cloy performance. The dancer, a man whose name is unknown, was discovered by a group of farmers just as the cheerless shades of evening were crawling over the village. The men were passing the Lutheran cemetery, near Stratmann, when the strains of a weird chant drifting from among the graves, caught their ears. They listened and looked. Then they entered the enclosure and cautiously crept forward.

The performer stripped of every vestige of raiment, was perched on a flat tombstone that he had placed on top of an ancient grave. He danced in frantic fashion and as he danced he sang and laughed.

Suddenly the performance ceased. The man fixed his eyes on the spot where the farmers crouched. They thought they were discovered and were considering flight when he quickly left his perch and, approaching a slab near by, began to wrestle with it. In a short time he had it loosed from its moorings. With a howl he picked it up and placed it on top of the grave it was intended to mark. Then he began his song and dance all over again.

At this point one of the men thought of the sheriff and started for Clayton, where he gave the alarm. Deputy Sheriff Harry Wengler went to the scene. When he arrived the man was in the heat of a performance on a third grave stone. Wengler went bravely toward the dancer, saw him and paused. Wengler was prepared for a struggle, but it was not forthcoming. The man went with him and was soon persuaded to don his apparel, which he had spread carefully on a grave.

Wengler took the fellow to Clayton, where, after several futile attempts to learn his identity, an examination was made by Dr. G. C. Eggers and he was pronounced crazy and locked up. An explanation of the case that the man may be a vaudeville performer who once had aspirations to play Hamlet is flouted by the Clayton authorities.

AN ATTENDANCE OF 62,232

Paid to See the Chicago and Detroit Ball Games.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The paid admissions were only 62,232 for the five games played by the Chicago and Detroit ball clubs, and the receipts totaled only $94,976, as compared with $101,000 last year.

The attendance at the final game last afternoon was but 6,210, with gross receipts of $9,577.50. Of the money taken in the players of Chicago, the winning team, get $27,669, and the Detroit players $18,446.

The club owners get $19,681 apiece and the national commission $9,497.

ENGLAND IN AFRICA.

According to advices from Natal, this date is likely to be a historic one in the annals of South Africa.
Following the example set by the British North American colonies in 1877, and by the Australian states in 1900, the four independent states which at present constitute British South Africa propose to form a federation.

The first steps toward the plan of union were taken at a conference at Durban by delegates representing the Transvaal, the Orange River colony, Natal and Cape Colony. Many important questions must be considered and disposed of before the union can become an accomplished fact. The most troublesome of all is the race question. Then there is the question of debt, and also the trade question.
But it is believed that all these will be satisfactorily settled in the course of time, just as similar difficulties were disposed of before the Dominion of Canada and the Australian commonwealth were given birth.

The proposed South African federation will cover nearly half a million square miles, or about equal to the combined area of Germany, France, Spain, Italy and Austria-Hungary.
The total population of the new state will be about 6,000,000.

WHAT MAKES HIM BATTY.

The poet of the Emporia (Kan.)
Gazette sings this song of the campaign:

Now Roosevelt's answered Bryan, and Haskell's answered Hearst; and everybody's lying, to see who lies the worst; and Hearst has answered Haskell and all the coal oil gang, and every one's a rascal, who ought to go and hang. Now Kern has answered Sherman and Sherman's answered Kern, and neither man has whiskers amounting to a derrick; and Debs has answered someone, and someone's answered Graves, and Hughes has bought a ticket that's good for seven shaves. And Taft has challenged Botkin to meet him in debate, and Mrs. Pinkham's answered the man who pays the freight. To all this answer business no ending do I see; I know it's got me rattled and batty as can be.

A half century of progress in the country since the days of Lincoln and Douglas has not bettered the condition of laborers and wage earners as it might have done. The battle for bread has grown sharper as the years have gone by, and the poor classes know that it is so.

A man in St. Louis is seeking a divorce from his wife because, among other things, when he remonstrated with her on her style of dress, she told him to mind his own business. The St. Louis man is not alone in taking this admonition as a serious insult.

Some Kansan is asking pertinent questions these days. He rises to inquire how many of the crowds rushing to hear political orators are voters and how many are women and children. This is the point that has been rather overlooked of late.

An up-state farmer in Connecticut insists on having a flying machine clause in his insurance policy, arguing that flying machines are quite as uncertain as tornadoes, for you never know what or when they are going to strike.

The man who cut off a turtle's head and put both head and body in the ice box, later finding the body walking around, would have told a better story if he had sworn that the head had eaten the body.

Though the postal department is authority for the statement that 3,000 letters go astray daily, it is not complained that any of the "please remit" variety ever get lost in the shuffle.

THANKFUL PEOPLE.

They Are Found in Every Part of Sedalia.

Many citizens of Sedalia have good reason to be thankful for burdens lifted from aching backs, which they bore patiently for years. Scores tell about their experience publicly.
Here is a case of it:

J. G. Riley, baker, of 114 East Fourth street, Sedalia, Mo., says: "I have been recommending Doan's Kidney Pills for over five years, and it has always given me pleasure to do so. I first procured this remedy at the W. E. Bard Drug Co.'s in 1901, and the relief I received from its use was most gratifying. My occupation is very hard on the back, and caused me at times to suffer severely from backache. I have had some light attacks of the trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills, but an appeal to their use has always given me quick relief. I have no hesitation in recommending them to those suffering from kidney complaint."

PETER
HOFFMAN

WILL TAKE HOME A BRIDE

A HUNGARIAN SCIENTIST WHO CAME TO ATTEND TUBER-CULOSIS CONGRESS.

TO WED WASHINGTON YOUNG LADY

The Ceremony is to Take Place Tuesday, and the Happy Couple Will Depart at Once for Their Home in Hungary.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Among the learned savants who came from all over the world to attend the recent International Congress on Tuberculosis was Dr. Ladlaus Detre, a famous Hungarian scientist.

Next week he will return to Budapest, taking with him as his bride one of Washington's most beautiful young women, Miss Lillian Coblenzer. The wedding is set for next Tuesday, and the doctor and his wife will leave immediately for their Hungarian home.

That science, stern, cold, forbidding science, can become at times the ally of Cupid is shown by the romance of Dr. Detre. If the learned physician had not so ably and conclusively proven to the world the correctness of his new method of diagnosing tuberculosis, Miss Coblenzer might not have said "yes," and blasted the best doctor's romance.

Dr. Detre is a member of the faculty of the University of Budapest.
While making a tour of Europe a year ago Miss Coblenzer and her mother met Dr. Detre on a railway train. The young physician became deeply impressed with the American girl, and was thereafter a member of the Coblenzer party.

Before she sailed for America Dr.
Detre proposed to Miss Coblenzer, but she would not promise to become his bride, remembering, it is said, an old schoolmate in Washington. Throughout the succeeding months Dr. Detre and Miss Coblenzer corresponded, and it is now said that one of the principal reasons for his attendance at the tuberculosis congress was the fact that its sessions were to be held in Washington.

Dr. Detre arrived here almost a week before his associate delegates, and the first thing he did was to call on Miss Coblenzer and renew his proposal of marriage.

"Prove your theory to the world,"
the American girl said, "and then I will say 'yes.'"

The physician accepted the chalenge, plunged into the work of the convention and made a success of his demonstration.

Miss Coblenzer has just passed her 18th birthday. She speaks German and French fluently and is a highly cultivated girl. She is regarded as a great beauty, having a fair skin, very dark eyes and coal black hair.
She has spent much time abroad. Dr.
Detre is 32 years old.

A CONVENTION OF WOMEN

FORTIETH ANNUAL MEETING OF AMERICAN SUFFRAGE
ASSOCIATION.

GIRLS IN "MERRY WIDOW" HATS

Are Mingling With Motherly Old Women in Buffalo, New York—They Like Mr. Taft Better Than Mr. Bryan.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Women of all ages and conditions in life make up the attendance at the fortieth annual convention opened in Buffalo today by the American Woman Suffrage association.

Young girls in "merry widow" hats and wonderful creations of the modiste, grandmotherly old women and stern-visaged dames in gowns severely simple are included in the assemblage, and stenographers and millionaires sit side by side, bound together by the common tie of a desire for political suffrage.

Some of the leading lights of the suffrage movement from all over the United States and Canada are here and will address the convention, which will continue in session until next Wednesday.

Routine business and the presentation of reports occupied the first hours of the gathering, but there was much animated discussion of current politics when the delegates foregathered for a more informal discussion of the objects of the convention.

According to some of the distinguished suffragettes, Mr. Bryan is opposed to their movement and he will never—no, never—be elected to the high office of president if the suffragettes have anything to say about it—so there, Mr. Bryan!

Mr. Taft has pleased the disciples of woman's rights by declaring for equal suffrage "when the time is ripe for it," but he evidently doesn't believe that that period has yet been reached, and the suffragettes entertain a very different opinion. Some of the women are wearing red buttons with a clasped hand design, the emblem of socialism, and point with pride to the fact that the socialist party is the only one that has declared unequivocally for full suffrage of women. Mr. Chafin has many admirers among the would-be voters.

Buffalo club women, particularly those of the Political Equality club, have made elaborate preparations for the entertainment of their visiting sisters and the coming week will witness many purely social affairs, aside from the more serious business of the convention. One day will be set apart for the college women, and it is stated that suffrage clubs have been organized in nearly all the female colleges and co-educational institutions of the country.

Reports from the American delegates to the recent convention of the International Suffrage Alliance in Amsterdam and the Council of Women in Geneva show a flattering growth in the suffrage movement throughout the world and have added ed much enthusiasm to the present gathering.

The present convention commemorates the sixtieth anniversary of the first woman's rights convention in the history of the world, which was held in Wesleyan chapel, Seneca Falls, N. Y. It was called by Lucretia Mott, Mary Ann McClintock, Elizabeth Cady Stanton and Martha Wright.

Mrs. Stanton moved this resolution, which was seconded by Frederick Douglass:

"That it is the duty of the women of this country to secure to themselves the sacred right of the elective franchise."

A BIG Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

MAGNIFICENT NEW STRUCTURE WILL BE OPENED IN BALTIMORE.

123,376 SQUARE FT. FLOOR SPACE

Will Accommodate 4,000 Persons, and Is Said to Be One of the Largest Buildings Ever Erected by an Association.

Baltimore, Oct. 15.—With simple ceremonies, the magnificent new building of the Baltimore Young Men's Christian Association will be opened today. The edifice is seven stories in height, contains 123,376 square feet of floor space, will accommodate 4,000 members and is declared to be the handsomest as well as one of the largest buildings ever erected by a Young Men's Christian association.

The lobby or social hall fronting on the Franklin street entrance is 25x75 feet. It is equipped with cozy corners, pianos, and handsome furnishings. To the right are the cafe, check room, physical director's office and gymnasium. On the left, entered by a corridor, are the pool rooms, which will contain six billiard and pool tables. Only senior members will be allowed to use this room.

The gymnasium, on the first floor, is said to be the best equipped in America. It is well lighted, with high ceilings, and furnished with every modern appliance for health, recreation and exercise. Individual exercise machines, punching bags and other apparatus are on the second floor, with fencing, wrestling and special exercise rooms connecting. Two large handball courts will be on the second floor. In the basement will be the shower, needle and tub baths, joined with a well lighted locker room, containing 2,300 lockers.

At the end of the basement is a swimming pool, 25 feet wide and 70 feet long, ranging from 4 to 8 feet deep. At the other end of the basement hall are the bowling alleys and barber shop. The banquet room and assembly hall will be on the second front floor, at the end of which will be the kitchen and china closets. The hall will seat 450 persons, with a deep stage, dressing rooms and side entrances.

The first thing that attracts special attention on the third floor is the large, well planned reading room, and connecting with it a spacious club room. At the other end of this group of rooms will be the directors' room and the secretary's office. On the same floor on the Cathedral street side is a fine group of rooms arranged for the boys' department, with games, reading, reception, club and educational classrooms.

The entire fourth floor, with the exception of three club rooms and camera club room, will be utilized for the night educational classes.

The fifth, sixth and seventh floors contain 124 sleeping rooms for men. They will be electrically lighted and well cared for.

The entire roof will be arranged for a roof garden, with apertures of it covered.

The directors expect to make the roof garden one of the most attractive places in the building.

magnificent, and the electrical effects bewildering. The finale of the first act, especially is said to be one of the most elaborate pieces of mechanism that has ever been placed on the stage. It shows an aerial circular swing with six beautiful show girls in baskets and while revolving the swing is illuminated with 2,000 incandescent lights, making a gorgeous spectacle.

The cast is headed by Victor Morley, who is identified with Richard Carle in "The Spring Chicken," and created the title role in the "Three Twins" when the show was first produced in the Whitney opera house in Chicago. Others are George S. Trimble, Eva Fallon, Richard Bartlett, W. H. Woodside, Maud Demarest, Della Niven, Ruby Ray, Frank Smith, E. P. AFTER HADLEY'S SCALP

HON. H. P. FARIS, PROHIBITION NOMINEE FOR GOVERNOR, WRITES REPLY.

TO ATTORNEY GENERAL'S LETTER

Puts Republican Nominee for Governor on the Defensive—Epistle Is Well Worthy of Perusal.

Clinton, Mo., Oct. 15, 1908. Hon. Herbert S. Hadley, Jefferson City, Mo. Dear Sir: Thanks for your kind favor of the 13th inst., and am greatly pleased at your frank admission of failure to do your duty or respect your oath of office when prosecuting attorney of Jackson county, for by that admission I am saved the trouble of proving it, and we get that matter clearly before the people, that neither you nor Mr. Cowherd could be depended upon to enforce, or attempt to enforce the liquor laws.

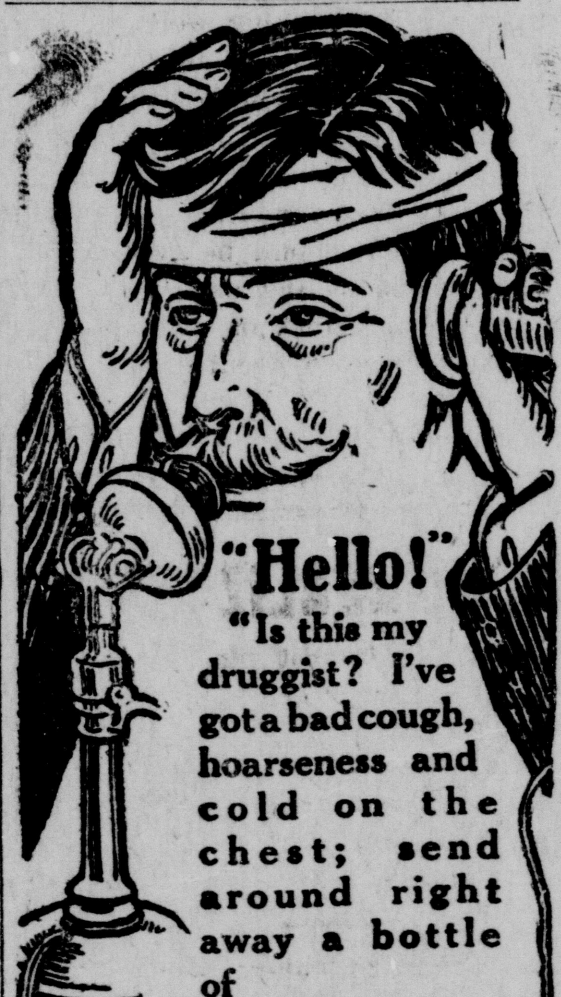

Now, as to Mr. Cowherd, permit me to answer just as frankly your inquiry. Mr. Cowherd has not had the common courtesy due between man and man to even acknowledge the receipt of my letter, and the only way I know he received same is because I have the post office registry receipt, and further, when the Kansas City Post said it had telegraphed both you and him, and his reply to it was he would not debate. As in my challenge I served notice that "avoidance is confession," so I wrote you, stating, "Mr. Cowherd is willing to concede my position by refusing to consider my challenge favorably." This you evidently overlooked, but to relieve your mind of the matter, permit me to say that in my judgment, Mr. Cowherd is no more worthy of the support of the God-fearing, home-loving, liquor-traffic-hating voter than you are—far, according to the confessions of both, you are both apparently tarred with the same stick of subservency to the liquor traffic, the most debasing and corrupting thing ever devised by the devil himself.

Answering further your inquiries as to my connection with Mr. Cowherd, permit me to say that so far as I can recall, I have never been my privilege to meet him, and further, so far as obtaining either republican or democratic help is concerned, in preparing my letters to you I have received none further than that which I find in the public press.

Lest you still do not understand my position, let me make it even more clear, and it is: That neither you nor Mr. Cowherd can, in my judgment, receive the support of a Christian man, without that man violating his own conscience and the Word of God, which says to such an one, "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing."

Is the above clear enough to satisfy you that I am in no wise giving any comfort, aid or assistance to Mr. Cowherd, any more than I am to you?

My third question in former letter, which was, "Are you not as much the recipient of the benefits of the Busch brewery contribution of 1904, which you are endeavoring to lay to Roosevelt's charge, as is Mr. Cowherd the recipient of Ed Butler's Indian methods in the recent primary?"

py?" You do not answer, but evade. Let me, therefore, ask again: If this contribution was made, as you say, to carry the state for Roosevelt, and you were also carried into office at the same time, and by the same election, why are you not the recipient of the benefits of that contribution as much as was Mr. Roosevelt? While we are on that subject, permit me now to ask why the charter of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company was not taken from them, when the law clearly says it shall be if the company contributes to campaign funds?

You did well in pursuing, even to New York, any one individual or corporation, if you thought such an one guilty of violating the law, and I do not join with your opponents in berating you for that expensive proceeding.

In this Busch case, however, you had the sworn testimony of the president of the concern itself that the corporation did contribute, right at your hand, and still no action taken by you to annul that charter. Is it possible that the Standard Oil Co., by reason of its unpopularity, furnished an opportunity for a "grandstand play," while the Busch brewery must not be disturbed because it helped elect Roosevelt, even taking your position that you were not personally benefitted by the contribution?

I am pleased to note that you concede the position maintained by me, that if the democratic party stole the nomination for Cowherd, then, using your own language, "Men who were appointed as republican judges and clerks participated in these frauds in Kansas City and St. Louis."

Am also glad that you concede, in part, the correctness of my position "that the great bulk of democrats (you, for some reason, leave out the republicans, which I included), are opposed to crimes against the ballot," but you do not go on and admit that those who perpetrate such frauds are but the plug-uglies, for whom the liquor traffic is responsible."

Is this not a fact? You fail to answer my sixth query, and I, therefore, repeat it: "You continually refer to the 'lawless liquor interests.' Let me ask if it is not a fact that there are none other kind than the 'lawless' kind? Did you ever know of a 'law-abiding' liquor interest?"

You say you can not make yourself any clearer on this than you have heretofore done. Both these questions can be answered "yes" or "no." What do you say?

You say that my seventh is but a "mere play on words," when after quoting your own language: "I do not want to be understood as bidding for the support of the prohibitionists of the state any more than I wish to be understood by what I have said in the past, as bidding for the support of the liquor interests." I ask whether you have become so blinded to all sense of decency as to believe that prohibitionists should be put in the same class with the liquor interests? If a play on words, they are your own words, and if you do not put them in the same class by that utterance, then I am deficient in my understanding of the English language. It may have been an unfortunate expression of yours, but, sincerely, do not these very words express your real sentiments?

You again fail to answer my eighth in regard to whether you are a Douglas democrat or a Lincoln republican.

I charge that you occupy the same ground on the liquor question that Douglas occupied on the slavery question. Am I right or wrong?

On reflecting, as you suggest I should, on my ninth question, I am more fully convinced that if, as you stated, Cowherd bid for the German-American alliance support by referring to his "wide-open" policy in Kansas City, and I concede that he did, thus make a high bid, then, in order to obtain that support, which you admit having, you must have bid still higher, for I never heard of an auction where one who failed to bid obtained the goods, against another high bidder. Did you?

My tenth question still remains unanswered: "In your former letter you appeared to refer to this most momentous question as a mere academic question," and I asked you whether a question which involves a waste of over $2,000,000,000 of the people's money; which costs the lives of 100,000 of our American people; which, being flouted as a revenue producer, instead costs us $16 to care for its products for every $1 derived from it as revenue, can be sneered aside as a mere academic question?"

Hoping for even a more full and frank reply to this letter, I am, respectfully yours.—H. P. Faris, Nominee of the Prohibition Party for Governor.

P. S.—My letter was written and mailed from St. Louis, because I was there, en route to the state fair at Sedalia, and that was the first spare time I had after you sent your letter.—H. P. F.

EFFECTIVE TAILORING

A different suit for every man. Every garment that leaves my shop is different as the lines of each figure differ from all others. It has to be so to fit the wearer.

Does it seem plausible that any man can be fitted perfectly from a stack of 35's or 40's, made to fit a wooden model?

This is the ideal time for ordering—$25.00 to $50.00.

TRULY A GREAT DEBATE

THAT BETWEEN HON. STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS AND HON. ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

HELD IN ILLINOIS 50 YEARS AGO

Celebration of the Semi-Centennial Anniversary of the Event—St. Louisans In Attendance at Alton, Illinois.

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Thousands of St. Louisans are today participating in the celebration at Alton, Ill., of the semi-centennial anniversary of the last great history-making debate between Abraham Lincoln and Stephen A. Douglas, "the little giant," which took place at that town on October 15, 1858.

Lincoln and Douglas were opponents for the Illinois senatorship in that year, with the slavery question as the principal issue.

The first of the series of debates, destined to become famous as the most remarkable political controversy in American history, was held at Ottawa on August 21.

Six other debates followed, at Freeport, Jonesboro, Charleston, Galesburg, Quincy and Alton, and each of these cities has recently celebrated the semi-centennial, the program at Alton today completing the anniversary exercises. Many men of prominence took part in today's meeting at Alton.

Old citizens of this city, who attended the famous debate at Alton fifty years ago recall many of the incidents that marked the verbal clash between the oratorical giants. Political excitement was at a white heat in Alton on that day.

Alton had been the home of Elijah P. Lovejoy, editor of a free soil paper, who was shot and killed by a mob in that city after the marauders had demolished his printing office and thrown his presses in the Mississippi river.

A platform for the speakers had been erected far in advance on the east side of the City hall, and seats for the women were fitted up in the second story of the structure, which still is the City hall of Alton.

Lincoln and Douglas arrived in the city before daylight from Quincy. Their rooms were thronged early in the day by admirers. Mr. Lincoln, according to the Alton Courier of that day, received at the Franklin house and Judge Douglas at the Alton, but Mr. S. Pitts, whose father was then proprietor of the Franklin house, says that both speakers were guests of that hostelry.

Among the newspaper men present at the debate were:

Mr. Paschal, of the St. Louis Republic; Mr. Griscom, of the St. Louis Evening News; Messrs. R. R. Hitt and Horace White, of the Chicago Press and Tribune; Mr. Beaman, of the Boston Traveler; Mr. Dewey, of the New York Evening Post.

Mr. Hitt was Lincoln's private stenographer. He subsequently entered the diplomatic service and was for many years a representative in congress from Illinois. In 1900 he was endorsed by the Illinois republican convention for the vice presidency, but declared to be a candidate.

Of the notables present in Alton on the day of the debate, four became aspirants for the presidency: Lincoln and Douglas, in 1860; Judge Trumbull, in the Liberal convention of 1873, but was defeated by Horace Greeley, and Palmer as the leader of the gold democrats in 1896.

Although he expressed his detestation of slavery in the historic debate at Alton fifty years ago, Lincoln did not deny its constitutionality. He was ever an extreme abolitionist. He believed that the extension of slavery should be prevented, that the institution should be confined to that part of the United States wherein it then existed until means could be devised for the ultimate extinction without despoiling the property rights of the slave-holders in the blacks.

His opponent, Stephen A. Douglas, was a native of Vermont, who had settled in Chicago. He had been on the Illinois supreme court bench. He had represented Illinois for two terms in the United States senate, and during his senatorship, in 1854, he introduced the Kansas-Nebraska bill, which repealed the Missouri compromise of 1820. He was one of the most adroit debaters in the land, and no less a patriot, though the presidential bee had long buzzed in his bonnet. He was a candidate for re-election in 1858.

Lincoln's political career up to the beginning of the debates which Douglas was confined to six years in the Illinois legislature and one term in the lower house of congress, to which office he was elected from Illinois in 1846. He did not seek the office again, and was a somewhat obscure lawyer in Springfield, Ill., from 1849 to 1854, when he again entered the political arena because of his antagonism to the repeal of the Missouri compromise.

Bad Symptoms.

The woman who has periodical headaches, backache, sees imaginary dark spots or specks floating or dancing before her eyes, has gnawing distress or heavy full feeling in stomach, faint spells, dragging-down feeling in lower abdominal or pelvic region, easily startled or excited, irregular or painful periods, with or without pelvic catarrh, is suffering from weaknesses and derangements that should have early attention. Not all of above symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Neglected or badly treated and such cases often run into maladies which demand the surgeon's knife if they do not result fatally.

No medicine extant has such a long and numerous record of cures in such cases as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No medicine has such a strong professional endorsement as each of our preparations—more than any number of ordinary non-professional preparations. The very best ingredients known to medical science for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments enter into its composition. No alcohol, harmful, or habit-forming drug is to be found in the list of its ingredients printed on each bottle wrapper and attested under oath. In any condition of the female system, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can do only good—never harm. Its whole effect is to strengthen, invigorate and regulate the whole female system and especially the pelvic organs. When these are deranged in function or affected by disease, the stomach and other organs of digestion become sympathetically deranged, the nerves are weakened and a long list of bad, unpleasant symptoms follow. Too much must not be expected of this "Favorite Prescription." It will not perform miracles; will not cure tumors—no medicine will. It will often prevent them, taken in time, and thus the operating table and the surgeon's knife may be avoided.

Women suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address as above.

Political arena because of his antagonism to the repeal of the Missouri compromise.

Extension of slavery was the burning issue in politics in 1858, and the trend of northern opinion was against it. The "Little Giant" took a middle view of the situation. He believed that the people of a new territory or a state had the right to determine for themselves whether slavery should exist in any part of the United States.

Opposed to him was the virtually untitled Lincoln.

When the campaign was over it was seen that a majority of Lincoln's supporters had been elected to the legislature, but the hold-over democrats in that body added to the newly elected ones were numerically strong enough to elect Douglas.

A TIRED HORSE SUICIDED

Dashed Through Window Because Worn Out of Hauling Wagon.

Brockton, Mass., Oct. 15.—Tired of hauling a fish wagon about all day, a horse owned by George W. McLaughlin, is believed to have deliberately attempted suicide when he dashed through a heavy plate glass window of a fruit store. The animal was so horribly cut that his sufferings were ended by a bullet from a policeman's revolver.

Witnesses of the affair state that the animal was joggling along Main street minus the driver, who had gone into a house to deliver an order of fish.

When the beast reached Allen street he ran directly across the street and plunged through the window.

Senator Beveridge, at a luncheon in Boston during the convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, made a telling little speech against the mad pursuit of wealth.

From the window of the room a sunny garden was visible, and in the garden a number of children pursued with breathless cries a swarm of blue butterflies.

Mr. Beveridge, waving his hand toward the racing children, said:

"Take a company of boys chasing butterflies; put long-tailed coats on the boys, and turn the butterflies into dollar bills, and you have a fine panorama of the business world."

FLUFFY RUFFLES COATS

THIS IS ONE OF THE STYLES TO BE WORN BY FAIR SEX DURING AUTUMN.

CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT'S VIEWS

If a Rough and Ready Coat is Needed for Business Wear a Good Herringbone Cheviot Will Make Good Choice.

(By Catherine Mann-Payzant.)

New York, Oct. 15.—Mid-October usually brings a touch of frost and cool weather, and the thoughts of the average woman turn to the subject of coats. Many styles and designs are shown in the New York shops, but these may be divided into two distinct types—the direction coat and one that is single breasted, semi-fitting semi long—a type that is sometimes called the Fluffy Ruffles, although it is so severely plain in build. Both models are extremely becoming to the majority of figures.

The direction coat really belongs to the dressy modes and may be made very elaborate for evening wear when developed from light weight and light colored material of handsome texture, and rather longer than the street proper; or it may have just that touch of elegance in velvet fine broadcloth, handsomely trimmed, which makes it most appropriate for a dressy afternoon toilette, and again, it may be developed plain by from a serviceable fabric and worn in the mornings.

The direction coat is often found without revers or the pockets, so as to allow more ease for the neck, and the collar. More often it is seen with the inimitable collar, which does not come completely round the neck, ending in the opening V. Two beautiful buttons on each side of the vest, or, when fastened across the breast, three, allow a very decorative effect. The collar and the cuffs are of a darker silk and may be edged with a fold of velvet or a bit of braid. While more strictly intended for wear with a long, clinging skirt, in its plainer development it has been adopted more and more with the shorter skirts. It is a style that adds to the height of the wearer and is always dressy and smart.

For dressy wear the empire coat is a favorite when one wishes a handsome garment for nice wear, either at a daytime function or evening.

For morning or for business, either as a separate coat or as part of a suit, there is a thirty-six inch length coat that may have straight fronts or be cut away in rounded shape. The coat is fastened visibly with five buttons and the coat sleeves are full and of full length and with plain round velvet cuffs. A velvet touched collar finishes the neck, while a little breast pocket on the left, and hip pockets are natty adjuncts. A coat of this description could be worn with a plain nine gored round skirt.

As there is a liking just now for plain coats with checked or striped skirts, the coat being of the most pronounced color in the skirt, the last description is a good one to use. For instance, with a blue broadcloth coat is worn a green and blue skirt of the same material as the coat, although different varieties of cloth are often used; a tan could accompany a tan and gray plaid, dashed with some bright color. In such cases the hat, gloves and shoes, and nurse and bag and umbrella carry out the color scheme. The same style of suit would be in good taste built of gray and black striped, a green and black bordered goods to be worn by a tall woman, or some of the invisible plaids.

A rough and ready coat is needed for business wear, a good herringbone cheviot will make a good choice. Either the notched or shawl collar may be used and of velvet, silk or other contrasting material, the cuffs and pocket flaps being the same.

When the closing is made in coat style, the front edges below the waist line are slightly cut away. Covert or suiting or broadcloth will be useful for a separate coat for odd skirts.

A suit for the early autumn days has a stylish circular skirt which is plain and close fitting at the top with two short darts on each hip, and with the back in habit style or add in an inverted plait. With the use of very wide suiting material or broadcloth, the skirt may be in one piece, but when more convenient for cutting a seam is made at the center front. The skirt has a short sweep.

The smart Eton jacket terminates at the girdle, but ends in a position in the back. The lower edge of the Eton and the neck and front edges are finished with the wide, flat facings of the same or a contrasting goods. The sleeves are in three-quarter length, but for winter would better be in full length.

Materials for an early suit of this sort may be of mohair, light serge or even silk, if for later wear suiting, broadcloth and cheviot would be a good choice.

While the rubberized coats are still in favor, cravenette seems to be new, or in its latest development. A number of tan cravenettes are shown made full from the collar, with big vertical pockets, having a lot of machine stitching upon them. The collars have an inset or part of it of a different color, as in green smooth cloth or brown or black and are finished on the seams and edges with soutache braid in black or tan. The sleeves are full at the armholes, and the cuffs, which are big and flaring, inset to match the collar. They are made with an idea to go over the fine light gown.

The narrow vest, of a contrasting color is one of the distinct features of the separate coat, and with no other decoration save very small gilt or pearl buttons, or coiled soutache braid will add a dressy touch, much greater than the amount of work expended upon it. For a coat of cadet blue serge, the vest will be smart, of white cloth with tiny gilt buttons and flat collar facings and cuffs of black satin.

Further decorations, if desired, may be given by the addition of black soutache braid in an easy pattern, such as the Greek key, may be applied on black satin. Bands of black satin are braided or embroidered with silk or braids and applied as bands around all edges.

All outside garments are built on straight mannish lines with as few curves at the waist as possible. The tailored sleeve is the usual thing, except in the case of the very dressy coat.

Fashion still favors cutaway fronts in round outline, or forming point at the sides and back.

Collars and cuffs may be of the same material as the coat, but more often are of a contrasting shade and material. The mannish inset of velvet is used on the plain business coats.

Ruchings of all sorts are used, both for outside wear and for the under collar as well. They are best suited for the long neck, as some of them are extremely high, standing up well in the back and hiding the hair.

Many afternoon and evening waists have the sleeves finished with a ruching to match the collar. Tulle or the old bobbinette of a fine sort seems to be the favorite material, although chiffon and lace are sometimes to be seen.

The backs of gloves to be worn with short sleeves are embroidered in fine designs and silk and often represent bracelets.

S.S.S. CONTAINS NO MERCURY

Medicines containing Mercury are often given to persons suffering with Contagious Blood Poison, and so powerful is the action of this drug that it frequently removes the symptoms in a short while, and shuts the disease up in the system to do greater damage to the delicate internal members. When, however, the treatment is left off, the disease always returns, and the patient finds that his health has been injured by this powerful mineral, and he is often left with weak stomach, disturbed digestion, mercurial rheumatism, etc. The action of S. S. S. is entirely different. It contains no Mercury, nor any other harmful drug, but is made entirely of healing cleansing roots and herbs. It cures Contagious Blood Poison by removing the virus from the blood. It searches out every particle of the poison and does not leave the least trace for future outbreaks. S. S. S., in addition to curing the disease, builds up and strengthens every part of the body. Its fine tonic effects tone up the stomach and digestion, improve the appetite and regulate the entire system. Home treatment book containing valuable information about the different stages of the disease and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

PRESENTED ADDRESSES DELEGATES TO THE SIGNAL CONVENTION.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

At yesterday's session of the convention of the Railway Signal association in Washington, D. C., reports on the signal practice, specifications of rubber insulation and on standard design were considered. President Roosevelt received the delegates, and also a party of other railroad men. He said:

"One of the honors that I have especially prized since I have been president has been my membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen; and, while I never have yet found any body of my fellow-citizens all of whose wishes I could meet while I was president, I am bound to say that I think I have come nearer being able to feel that I ought to do what you railroad men have asked than any other one body that I have come in contact with."

It has been a very great pleasure to me to work with you. I have felt that the railway men of the country showed to a peculiar degree certain qualities that I prize in any citizen—the qualities of nerve, hardihood, of capacity to obey and to obey like that (clapping his hands together), and the capacity to take responsibility and assume command when necessary."

Harriman and Gould Clash.

The story is freely discussed in railroad circles here that the Harriman interests have interfered with the plans of the Goulds to depose Frederic A. Delano from the head of the Wabash system, and that the re-election of Delano Tuesday was due altogether to this interference, since George Gould is known to have had E. B. Pryor, of St. Louis, slated for this position since December 13 last.

Pryor made many trips to Pittsburg and over the eastern connections of the Wabash system in order to make himself familiar with its workings, perhaps in anticipation of the election scheduled for Tuesday at Toledo, Ohio.

According to Pittsburg information, however, Harriman, in agreeing to assist the Goulds in straightening out their Wabash troubles, insisted on having a say in all matters of importance, and he is known to have faith in the executive ability of Delano, and so insisted on his re-election.

There May Be an Arrest.

Complaint was made to the police today that M. K. & T. freight trains in the local yards block street crossings longer than five minutes, as is permitted by the city ordinance covering the case.

An instance was cited where one freight train was timed and blocked a street crossing fully ten minutes. The authorities are watching for violations, and an arrest will not occasion any surprise.

For the first week in October the total receipts accruing from business transacted at the M. K. & T. freight depot in this city exceeded the amount of business for the same period last year by $2,000.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, by the purchase of a strip of land two blocks along Fourth street, fronting seventy-five feet on Broadway, obtained a site for the new station in Columbia. The improvement is to cost about $25,000, including the site.

WOMEN MOB SCHOOL HOUSE

Cleveland Teacher Who Whipped Boys Saved by Police.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 15.—A mob of 250 men, women and children stormed the Central school yesterday in an attempt to wreak vengeance upon John Elliott, a teacher, who had punished two seventh-grade boys. Sheriff McGorray sent a deputy out to the school, who escorted the teacher from the building.

As they departed sticks and stones were hurled at them, and Elliott would have been torn from his protector had not police arrived.

When the mob formed Janitor G. Bratton barred the school doors and telephoned to the sheriff. The children, with their fathers and mothers, climbed the fence into the school yard and attempted to get into the building by the fire escape.

When the deputy sheriff arrived Bratton refused to let him enter, but upon his displaying his badge the door was opened. Policemen arrived and helped the deputy take Elliott to a street car.

Lucile McVey will give a recital at the Georgetown school Friday night, October 16. A box social will be held in connection with the entertainment.

G.H. Ayers

Presents His Platform to The Voters of Pettis County.

I appreciate the fact it will almost be impossible to be elected to the very important office of Sheriff of this county without the aid and votes of both the Republicans and Democrats, and to them especially, and to the voters of all other parties in general, this is directed.

I will pledge myself, if elected to this office, to the following, which is the only platform I have:

MY PLATFORM

I will be the Sheriff in fact as well as in name and not delegate the duties to hirelings.

There will be no grafting of any description in the Sheriff's office during my administration.

My full time and attention will be given to the duties of this office to the best of my ability.

There will be no partisanship in the fulfillment of my duties, and I will be Sheriff—"Representing not one class of people,"

"But all classes of the people."

For a clean and upright administration of the Sheriff's office in this county, I respectfully solicit the votes of all voters, irrespective of politics.

Your Servant to Command,

G. H. AYERS,
